This view was one of the reasons why we ended up going to Sichuan for our honeymoon: Nuorilang Waterfall, in Jiuzhaigou Valley (九寨沟)...A long time ago, in one of the Chinese chophouses in Hungary, there was a calendar with a picture of this view. Unfortunately, I could not recall the name of the place, so when my wife asked for my interests in China, I could only tell her, that there is a place where a waterfall is formed from a field. She found it :)
